Length of track: 3:18
Style: Zydeco

Here's a sassy Cajun fiddle tune that gets some extra hot spice from a sizzling Zydeco arrangement! Funky bass and groovin' accordion pump up the mix while the drums keep kicking up the jams a notch. There's a lot going on here and you'll need to keep your eye on the tab while you learn this tune. Once you've got it (or if you already know it), cut loose with some rhythm variations, melodic improv, playing on the bass string and getting your party on!

The ending is a little tricky; that's a D before the stop - let the accordion have its say, and then the four-beat tag. I've played one version, but there are lots to explore. Serve this one up with some jambalaya!
